Hmm... I think site works and parking lot/driveway items are likely pretty accurate, depending on the scope of removal/grading and how much we're paving, that stuff can add up pretty quickly?

The landscaping budget I think depends on the expectations for the finished product? We could probably shave down on the $25k for landscaping if we aren't worried about making it look fancy with putting things like fencing, trees, shrubs, gardens etc around the building and property? Just some basic grass or sod and some signage could probably be cut down quite a bit to $10k or $15k to be safe?

Hi Matt,

For the BP end of things, we'd probably set the permit fee at $250 for the placement of the modular building, then only charge separately for cost of the site built portion of the project (likely just entry steps/ramps/landings) If we budgeting for $500 permit fees that would more than likely cover it all

Subject: Edgewater Post Office Project - Initial Stakeholder Meeting

Good afternoon,

As you may be aware, the Edgewater post office building is nearing its end of life. After consulting with Shawn and Director Schnider, it's been determined that we will permanently close the building prior to next winter.

Director Schnider has been working with a Edgewater Redevelopment group who are planning to redevelop some of the RDEK owned properties in Edgewater. Director Schnider has confirmed that the community would like to see a Post Office be included in any future redevelopment of those properties. The Edgewater Redevelopment group is still in the early planning phases and is still years away from any type of construction. Because of this, we need to come up with a temporary solution to house the Post Office until the properties can be redeveloped.

The tentative plan is to purchase a mobile office trailer and put it on a vacant, non-serviced lot that's kitty-corner to Pip's Country Store. For this property to work, it needs to be serviced with water, sewer, and electricity. It will also require a building permit and rezoning. The communications for the project will also be very important, as the post office is a sensitive topic and information moves very quickly in the community.

With this in mind, I'd like to setup a meeting with representatives from the Planning, Building, Engineering, and Communications departments to discuss the project and determine what all needs to happen for this project to be successful. If there is someone in your department that is better suited to take part in this process, please let me know. I'm currently looking at a meeting the week of March 11th. If that works for everyone, I'll send out a meeting invite.

A note for you Tom; Tom S investigated the water and sewer connections for me about a year ago. I'll forward you the email.

Thanks,
Matt

We are needing to update the Edgewater Post Office Tempest Folio you created for us so that Holly can prepare tax requisition estimates. I would appreciate if we connect sometime in the next week to review the service area boundary Director Schnider marked out?

Please let me know when works best for you, my schedule is open. Shouldn't take more than 5-10 minutes.

Hi Shaun,

Hoping you can help out with a somewhat time sensitive request. We are looking to conduct an elector assent process in June 2025 for a new Edgewater Post Office Service. Shawn, Tina, and I are hoping to present Director

Schnider with a preliminary concept and cost of the new service while she's in town for the October 11th board meeting. We would really appreciate if you could help us out by creating a folio in Tempest along with a map showing the service area boundary, titled "Edgewater Post Office Service". For this preliminary phase, we are just going to use the same folio and service area boundary as the Edgewater Fire Service, so hopefully that reduces the amount of work for you.

If possible, we would appreciate if you could complete it in the next week or so, as I Holly is going to prepare some financials based on the folio. Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks Shaun!

3.3 Environmental Assessment

A Phase 1 Environmental Assessment of the properties has not been completed.

3.3.1 Vermillion Property

From discussions with members of the Edgewater Redevelopment Planning Committee, it is understood that the Vermillion property has never been used for any commercial or industrial purpose. The property has been previously utilized for residential purposes as a 'teacherage' providing accommodation for teachers at the local school.

There are no known Schedule 2 activities that have occurred on the property, nor is there reason to believe that any Schedule 2 activities that may have occurred on neighbouring properties may have impacted the subject property.

Hi Matt,

Land Use Approval - $2,250 is the 2025 bylaw amendment fee.

Development Charges – could more accurately be 'labelled' building permit fees, would help to distinguish from charges associated with connecting to servicing. BP – Kenley has estimated $500. I would not have any additions to this, there are not any Development Permits required for these parcels.

Legal & Subdivision – as shown on table $2000 is my best guesstimate, this would cover staff time coded, Land Title Office fees and Notary or Lawyer fees.

Environmental Assessments - as based on previous usage there is no trigger under Schedule 2 - Contaminated Sites Regulation for a Site Disclosure Statement, unless required by MIABC, I do not see why a Phase 1 Assessment would be required.

Any questions, please let me know.

Hi Karen and Kenley,

Hope you're doing well. Last week I met with Shawn, Holly, Tina, Loree, and Director Schnider last week to discuss details of the proposed Edgewater Post Office service, which we will be doing an assent vote for this Summer. After reviewing all the options, Director Schnider decided that she would like to proceed with a permanent modular building on the vacant lot kitty-corner to Pip's Country store. Over the next couple weeks, Holly will be preparing tax requisition information for the proposed new service, and so she needs an estimated capital cost to base her figures on. The two of you previously helped me out by providing budget estimates for a temporary mobile trailer, I was wondering if you could help out once again by reviewing the preliminary budget for the permanent modular building.

Attached is the preliminary budget based off of some quotes I obtained last year and the budget estimates Richard Haworth previously developed for a standalone, stick-build Post Office. I've highlighted the figures I'd appreciate if you could review. A quick conversation might be helpful if you have any questions about the proposed building/project.

Thanks,
Matt

7% PST on the subtotal (excluding contingency) would cost $23,450, which would bring the new total to either $425,450 or $430,140, depending on whether you included the PST in the 20% contingency calculation.

Regarding timelines, I estimate it will take 15-28 weeks or 4-7 months from beginning to draft the procurement documents to having the building installed. This includes:

1. 1-4 weeks to draft the RFP
2. 4 weeks open RFP
3. 2-4 weeks to evaluate proposals and award contract
4. 8-16 weeks to construct the modular building
5. 1 week to deliver and install modular building.

Structural Assessment (Nov)	$3,600
Snow Removal – Roof	1,000	$1,000	 roof must be cleared of snow once accumulation is 1 foot – contingent on being able find a contractor to do the work

Hi Matt and Tina

Please find attached the above.

Since the last CVE report, dated November 24, 2024 was issued, the building does not appear to have deteriorated further based on the visual review carried out on April 28, 2025.

I would like to reiterate a couple of points because of the building condition (see page 3).

The RDEK staff and the building users MUST inform CVE immediately if they notice any sudden changes in the building, such as, but not limited to,

- Cracks getting larger or new cracks appearing.
- Walls obviously moving out of plumb.
- Stucco falling off walls.
- Strange noises.
- Excessive snow loading (greater than 12").

As stated above, if anyone at the RDEK or the Post Office has any issues or concerns, they must immediately contact CVE at 250 342 1554 or 250 342 1344.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Columbia Valley Engineering (CVE) revisited the building to review the current condition and re-measure the crack monitoring installed on the foundation, exterior walls, and concrete slab on November 13, 2025. The measurements were taken using Mitutoyo digital calipers and documented in the tables below.

Observations

Roof

CVE investigated the Post office roof structure from above. Overall, the roof did not appear to have deteriorated since the last assessment on November 13, 2024.

- The west side of the roof is supported by the framed wall below. As noted previously, this wall and its associated footing are failing in both the library and the storage area. See next section rear (west) wall.
- There are two areas with large piles of leaves accumulating on the roofing surface.
 - These piles of leaves should be removed from the roof surface.

Walls

Rear (West) Wall

The rear wall is failing, as noted in the original CVE report dated July 17, 2022.

- Crack monitoring was installed for the main crack in the wall, and monitoring is ongoing.

Library Walls

The library walls are cracked, particularly at the doorways and openings. The footings are known to be failing in this area — they are visible from the crawl space below. The CVE report dated July 17, 2022, details these issues.

- Crack monitoring was installed for this wall, and monitoring is ongoing.

Basement Walls

The basement had dried out since the last visit in May 2024. The odor was strong. The hole in the wall was repaired with epoxy.

- The repair to the interior of the wall appeared to be working.
 - There was no additional water in the basement.
- The external grade at the northeast corner of the post office has been corrected to provide positive drainage away from the building.

Wall Footings

The rear (west) wall and library (north) footings are settling as stated in previous reports.

- Crack monitoring was installed for the foundation wall/footing and monitoring is ongoing.

Crack Measurement April 28, 2025

Location	Crack Number	Nov 13, 2024 Width (mm)	April 28, 2025 Width (mm)	Delta (mm)
Library Crawl Space	#1	76.63	75.32	-1.31
	#2	97.86	96.26	-1.60
	#3	99.81	98.06	-1.75
Garage Slab to Post Office Foundation Wall	#1	80.08	80.65	+0.57
Library Interior Wall Cracks	#1	116.31	114.62	-1.69
	#2	97.14	95.07	-2.07
Library Exterior Wall Cracks	#1	97.29	96.21	-1.08
	#2	124.38	123.06	-1.32
	#3	122.29	121.33	+0.04
	#4	120.46	120.47	+0.01

Discussion

At this time, the following was noted.

- The concrete slab in the shop area is pulling away from the foundation wall, resulting in a large gap between the foundation wall and the slab.
- The cracks in the foundation wall under the library and the cracks in the drywall inside the library are smaller. They are currently closing.
- The cracks in the exterior wall of the library are very close to the original measurements.

The ground at this time of year around the library's foundation will have a higher water content. This higher water content will facilitate the soils to swell or lift. The minor cracks in these areas are that the foundation has lifted. The foundation is not below the required frost depth, nor is it frost protected with additional insulation. During the winter freeze and spring thaw cycle, the ground and foundations without proper frost depth or frost protection installed will lift or heave; once the soils become more dry and warmer temperatures are present, the structures will usually settle back, and the cracks open up again.

Since the last CVE report, November 24, 2024 was issued, the building does not appear to have deteriorated further based on the visual review carried out on April 28, 2025.

CVE will follow up in the fall of 2025 to recheck all the points and provide a report to the RDEK.

The RDEK staff and the building users MUST inform CVE immediately if they notice any sudden changes in the building, such as, but not limited to,

- Cracks getting larger or new cracks appearing.
- Walls obviously moving out of plumb.
- Stucco falling off walls.
- Strange noises.
- Excessive snow loading (greater than 12").

Hi Shea,

Thank you for your patience. The June vote which was earlier proposed in 2025 was delayed and we have just prepared a request to be brought forward to the upcoming RDEK Board meeting to conduct a vote for late November 2025. For a more detailed explanation on the matter, you may wish to review Item 9.2 on the Electoral Area Services Committee meeting agenda of August 7, 2025, specifically the Bylaw Review section on page 2 of the Request for Decision. Linked below is the agenda item:

I am just doing a follow up as there has not been any communication regarding this situation.
Did the RDEK move forward with the vote on June 21 2025? If so, what was the outcome or the discussions to move forward?
Are you able to provide us with any further details or update us on this matter?

Hi Chris,

One additional question for you regarding timelines. Our vote is tentatively scheduled for June 21st, 2025. In the event the vote is unsuccessful, we are trying to determine how much time would be required for Canada Post implement an alternative service delivery model, as this will determine when we can permanently close the current post office building. Would a deadline of October 31th, 2025 be feasible?

Thankyou in advance.

Good morning Matt. I hope all is well. I did reach out to see what information I could find for you, and unfortunately, I don't have any more information to provide with regards to possible outcomes. With the Edgewater office being a postmaster provided office, any site or lease negotiation is between the RDEK and the Postmaster and there are just too many possible scenarios to provide a solid answer to the "what if..." question. If you think there is anything else I might be able to assist with, please feel free to reach out and I will continue to do my best to find what information I can.

I am sorry I couldn't be of more assistance.

Thanks for the update Matt. I have CC'd our retail representative (Shea Thomas) as they will have more information regarding the process. I have not actually been a part of that process before. To my understanding. If the current building lease was to cease, the postmaster would be required to look for another location in the community. If they were unable to find anything, I believe there are community consultations that need to occur between Canada Post and the community to outline the different options that might be available at that time. I think one of the first and more likely options would be to have Community Mail boxes installed in a central location within the community (i.e. on the current PO location for the community members to access). I will investigate on this end a little bit further, for clarification, and then reach out to arrange a call/TEAMS meeting to go over what information I am able to gather.

I am on the road Monday and Tuesday next week, so I will do my best to get what info I can and I will reach out before the end of next week to set something up.

Cheers

Hi Chris and Mike,

Hope you're both doing well. It's been some time since we last spoke; I wanted to provide you an update on where things are at in relation to getting a new Post Office building in Edgewater. Additionally, we're hoping you can help us with a few questions we have. Cc'd is Loree, our Communications Manager, and Tina, our Corporate Officer.

Over the past six months, we have been honing in the scope of the proposed new Post Office building. Roberta has been liaising with the community and Sylvia to determine what is required and what is feasible. It was ultimately determined that a 800 sq. ft. modular office building would be the best option. Our next big step is conducting an assent vote (referendum) within the community to determine if they want us to establish an "Edgewater Post Office Service” to fund the capital cost of purchasing a modular office building, as well as fund some of the ongoing operational costs. We are tentatively planning to hold the assent vote in June of this year, the exact date is yet to be determined. If the result of the vote is “Yes”, we would work towards procuring a modular office building, with the goal of having the new location operational sometime in Winter 2025. If the result of the vote is “No”, then we would work towards closure of the current Post Office building, and cease leasing the current space to Sylvia. A big part of conducting an assent vote is ensuring we clearly communicate to residents what would happen if the result is a “Yes” and a “No”. We know what a “Yes” vote would mean, however we’re hoping you could help us understand what a “No” vote would mean for residents accessing postal services.

Some of our questions include:

- What would the service model be for mail and parcels?
 - Would there be community mail boxes installed?
 - Would there be multiple community mail box locations? Where would they be located? How is that determined?
 - Would residents need to access services through either Radium or Invermere?
- What would be the timeline for implementation, and how long would it be before we could cease operation of the current post office building?

In general, we would appreciate if you could help us clearly understand what would happen if it was a “no” vote so that we can provide this information to residents as part of our communications plan. If it would be helpful, we could setup a virtual meeting to discuss.

Hi Chris,

Thanks again for meeting with Roberta and I last week. After some internal discussion, it was determined that in order to fund a new post office building, we (the RDEK) need to establish a new service to pay for it. To do that, we need to determine the service area boundary, which is essentially just the properties that will pay for the service. I'm hoping you could help us out with determining the service area boundaries.

Does Canada Post have a map or list of properties that utilize the Edgewater Post Office? If you don't have that information, perhaps you could tell us approximately how far north and south the Edgewater Post office serves before it becomes the Radium Post Office or the Brisco community post boxes.

Thankyou in advance for your help. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Hello Mark,

Here are the responses to your questions,

1. The total construction cost of the site and the building, with PST included is estimated to be $371,306.
2. The RDEK plans to capitalize the final full cost of the project (as attached)
3. The RDEK is intending to utilize interim financing on the loan authorization bylaw no. 3380, to provide cashflow for the project start in early spring 2026, and borrow in the Spring 2026 MFA Debenture opportunity.
4. The total construction cost of $445,545 includes 7% PST and a 20% contingency = $74,239.
5. The RDEK is not intending to utilize any other funding sources for this project.

I have attached a copy of the capital budget for your records.

Please let me know if you require any further information.

Hi Nikki/Tina,

Thanks for your submission.

I had a few questions relating to your submission:

1. What are the total construction costs relating to the Edgewater commercial space anticipated to be?
2. What portion of all construction costs are anticipated to be capitalized by the RDEK (on its financial statements)?
3. Is the RDEK intending to utilize interim financing authorized by borrowing bylaw no. 3380?
4. Does the total anticipated construction costs include a contingency amount? If so, how much?
5. Is the RDEK intending to utilize other financing sources relating to the construction project that bylaw no. 3380 is borrowing for?

Please advise. Thanks

Good afternoon,

Hope you week is off to a good start!

There have been some questions in the community about the cost of a new building for the post office. One of our hub members found these on Facebook. Not sure if they are suitable but the one from Peachland looks like it would be a good fit! The price is attractive as well.

Kind regards,

Thanks, Roberta, for forwarding this information on. It's good to see positive energy and interest in the vote. This is typical of a community to seek out more desirable priced options, but there are many variables to be considered prior to determining what the best and most viable option is. Similarly, while preparing for the Rural Kimberley Fire Protection Service Vote, we had received feedback from the public on better priced fire tenders and were scrutinized for the price of the truck and loan authorization amount. However, the fire tenders being proposed by the public would have never been able to be insured by a local government, as an example. There has been a significant amount of work in determining a long-term functional space. The Facebook links provided show office space use and appeared to be limited to other lease space options such as a daycare or coffee shop.

I think that when speaking with the community it's important to reiterate that electors will be voting on the maximum requisition and loan authorization amounts. I think that we can add some context towards the type and costs of the space in our information package to provide more transparency on the dollar value.

I hope this helps,
Tina

Hi Loree,

The below email from last April provides some good insights. I was incorrect about a mobile office trailer not being eligible for a building permit. Below outlines the requirements for both a temporary and permanent solution.

I can add that most mobile office trailers are designed for temporary use in remote locations, meaning they mostly have self contained water and sewer. Additionally, a lot of mobile office trailers don't have washrooms. Combined, this really limits the options for used mobile office trailers. We could purchase a new mobile office trailer that meets all our building code specifications, however there wouldn't be a huge cost savings and the width of mobile office trailers could be an issue.

It was with all this information in mind that we collectively decided that a modular building was our best option. A used modular building could be an option, however we would need to ensure it meets building code requirements and is the right dimensions for what the Postmaster needs. Different provinces have different building codes and the dimensions/layout required for a commercial space are quite a bit different than a residence, so the options are very limited.

Hope this provides some good insight. Let me know if you have any questions.

Subject: RE: Edgewater Post office

Happy Friday everyone,

Reporting back on my findings regarding availability and cost of mobile trailers and modular buildings. All the costs are for 720 sq. ft., which for a mobile trailer is 12'x60'.

Starting with used mobile trailers. Turns out bathrooms aren't a common feature for mobile office trailers, so finding a used trailer was very difficult. I was only able to find one, which I was quoted $45k-65k excluding delivery or installation. It may or may not come in below the $75k threshold. For a new mobile office trailer, there were lots of companies who make them. I was quoted anywhere from $85k-$200k including delivery and installation. Regarding a modular building, I was quoted between $154k-$250k including delivery and installation. Both a new mobile office trailer and modular building would require an RFP, as it would exceed $75k.

The advantage of a new mobile office trailer or modular building is it could be constructed to meet the needs of the Post Office. The placement of interior walls and layout of the building could be customized. Furthermore, modular buildings come in different dimensions, whereas the widest mobile trailer is 12 feet, which may be an issue for the mailboxes. If not sure if Canada Post needs access the backs of boxes like they currently do. If so, then a mobile trailer may be an issue.

I also spoke to Kenley regarding building code requirements. For them, it depends on if the building is temporary or permanent. There is no definition of temporary or permanent, but let's assume 3-5 years max for temporary. Whether it's a mobile trailer or modular building doesn't impact things. Requirements are as follows:

- If temporary solution:
 - No Building Permit required
 - Doesn't require CSA certification
 - Doesn't require architect, engineer
 - Doesn't need to meet Part 9 Building Code requirements
 - Doesn't need to meet snow load requirements
 - Doesn't require energy advisor or need to meet any Energy Step Code
 - Doesn't need to be connected to municipal water and sewer, but is still the preference
- If permanent solution:
 - Building Permit required
 - Requires CSA A277 certification
 - Building can either come certified. If it's not certified, would require review by architect and engineer
 - Must meet Part 9 Building Code requirements
 - Minimum ground snow load $S(s) = 2.7$, $S(r) = 0.2$
 - Must be connected to municipal water and sewer
 - Requires review by energy advisor to confirm the building meets Step Code 3.

If the intention is to have something in place by end of year, it would have to a temporary solution, and would have to be a used mobile office trailer. If you're wanting something that is/could become permanent, it wouldn't be able to be implemented this year, and I wouldn't recommend anything used.

Let me know if you have any questions. Once Holly hears back from the Province regarding short-term borrowing, perhaps we could setup another meeting to discuss.

Have a great weekend,

Thank you for the update, perhaps I'll still draft up a MoU so she has a better understanding of the RDEK's expectations moving forward and to help with her considerations in the next few weeks. It may be a couple of weeks until I can have this prepared anyways.

Enjoy your weekend,

Good evening everyone,

I have been having conversations with Sylvia this week regarding the post office and the MOU. She is in a bit of flux with Canada Post right now and would like to see what the next few weeks bring in terms of signing off on an MOU.

In the mean time I will give Chris a call at Canada Post and see if I can get some information about what's going on from their end. At the same time I will inquire about the responsibility for the move of the boxes etc.

Thanks for your patience!

Roberta

Hello Shawn,

I was please to show you and your crew around. I am available anytime if questions come up as we make these plans and hopefully move forward with this project soon!

The Leasing Allowance Rate as of Jan 01 2025 is $2,206.00 annually and the rate as of Jan 01 2026 will be $2,283.00 annually. This money is allocated to pay rent, utilities, maintenance and office supplies. Hope this helps!

Kindly,
Sylvia

Hi Sylvia,

It was nice to see you last night, I appreciate you showing us around to better understand what will be needed for the Post Office.

In follow up to the questions in the meeting about the lease allowance, and so we can better estimate what the budget will look like, what is the current lease allowance that you receive from Canada Post? And has the 2026 amount been established?

Thanks,

Shawn

Hi everyone,

Passing along this old email exchange with Canada Post. It speaks to the service area boundaries and alternative postal service delivery options if there were no post office in Edgewater.

Good morning Matt. I hope all is well. I did reach out to see what information I could find for you, and unfortunately, I don't have any more information to provide with regards to possible outcomes. With the Edgewater office being a postmaster provided office, any site or lease negotiation is between the RDEK and the Postmaster and there are just too many possible scenarios to provide a solid answer to the "what if..." question. If you think there is anything else I might be able to assist with, please feel free to reach out and I will continue to do my best to find what information I can.

I am sorry I couldn't be of more assistance.

Thanks for the update Matt. I have CC'd our retail representative (Shea Thomas) as they will have more information regarding the process. I have not actually been a part of that process before. To my understanding. If the current building lease was to cease, the postmaster would be required to look for another location in the community. If they were unable to find anything, I believe there are community consultations that need to occur between Canada Post and the community to outline the different options that might be available at that time. I think one of the first and more likely options would be to have Community Mail boxes installed in a central location within the community (i.e. on the current PO location for the community members to access). I will investigate on this end a little bit further, for clarification, and then reach out to arrange a call/TEAMS meeting to go over what information I am able to gather.

I am on the road Monday and Tuesday next week, so I will do my best to get what info I can and I will reach out before the end of next week to set something up.

Cheers

Hi Chris and Mike,

Hope you're both doing well. It's been some time since we last spoke; I wanted to provide you an update on where things are at in relation to getting a new Post Office building in Edgewater. Additionally, we're hoping you can help us with a few questions we have. Cc'd is Loree, our Communications Manager, and Tina, our Corporate Officer.

Over the past six months, we have been honing in the scope of the proposed new Post Office building. Roberta has been liaising with the community and Sylvia to determine what is required and what is feasible. It was ultimately determined that a 800 sq. ft. modular office building would be the best option. Our next big step is conducting an assent vote (referendum) within the community to determine if they want us to establish an "Edgewater Post Office Service" to fund the capital cost of purchasing a modular office building, as well as fund some of the ongoing operational costs. We are tentatively planning to hold the assent vote in June of this year, the exact date is yet to be determined. If the result of the vote is "Yes", we would work towards procuring a modular office building, with the goal of having the new location operational sometime in Winter 2025. If the result of the vote is "No", then we would work towards closure of the current Post Office building, and cease leasing the current space to Sylvia. A big part of conducting an assent vote is ensuring we clearly communicate to residents what would happen if the result is a "Yes" and a "No". We know what a "Yes" vote would mean, however we're hoping you could help us understand what a "No" vote would mean for residents accessing postal services.

Some of our questions include:

- What would the service model be for mail and parcels?
 - Would there be community mail boxes installed?
 - Would there be multiple community mail box locations? Where would they be located? How is that determined?
 - Would residents need to access services through either Radium or Invermere?
- What would be the timeline for implementation, and how long would it be before we could cease operation of the current post office building?

In general, we would appreciate if you could help us clearly understand what would happen if it was a "no" vote so that we can provide this information to residents as part of our communications plan. If it would be helpful, we could setup a virtual meeting to discuss.

We do not have a map of this boundary as we try to get that information from you (RDEK) when you put the community (say Edgewater) of the new addresses.
As these are PO boxes I will see if we can determine North to South for you.

Hi Chris,

Thanks again for meeting with Roberta and I last week. After some internal discussion, it was determined that in order to fund a new post office building, we (the RDEK) need to establish a new service to pay for it. To do that, we need to determine the service area boundary, which is essentially just the properties that will pay for the service. I'm hoping you could help us out with determining the service area boundaries.

Does Canada Post have a map or list of properties that utilize the Edgewater Post Office? If you don't have that information, perhaps you could tell us approximately how far north and south the Edgewater Post office serves before it becomes the Radium Post Office or the Brisco community post boxes.

Thankyou in advance for your help. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Looks good, just one addition. The electors will also include Spur Valley. Should we include "Spur Valley" in the lead sentence ?

Everything else is great, and very good timing as there has been quite a bit of chatter in the community.

Hope the healing is going well:)

Deck, stairs, wheelchair ramp	$ 6,000.00	$ 6,000.00	This would mostly be for front public access. May need to re-visit depending on the final configuration of back door for loading/unloading.
Fascia, siding, skirting, etc.	$ 5,000.00	$ 2,000	Could get away with just replacing the missing/damaged skirting with painted plywood for a couple of years.
Interior
Architect (Design)	$ 6,000.00	$ 2,000	Due to size, wouldn't require an AIBC licensed Architect. Any building designer could do a basic set of plans for the interior reno and ramp.
Demolition	$ 4,000.00	$ 4,000.00
Carpentry and finishing	$ 18,000.00	$ 18,000.00	Will likely remain the biggest portion of work if Electrical/Mechanical systems are functional.
Flooring	$ 12,000.00	$ 5,000	Could be reduced quite a bit if we only do new flooring in the main entry area (~450-500 sq ft). Storage areas and washrooms weren't in too bad of shape.
Electrical	$ 8,000.00	$ 8,000.00	Will be expensive to get electrician to relocate wiring in existing walls and add lighting or switches as needed. Best left @ $8,000 to be safe.
Plumbing	$ 4,000.00	$ 2,000	Could likely be reduced if we only need to cap kitchen sink lines and connections below floor are still in good shape.
HVAC	$ 5,000.00	$ 2,500.00	May only need inspection and or minor work. Furnace and HWT look functional. Would not want to switch to all baseboard heat due to the available electrical service of manufactured home unit, as well as leaving ventilation concerns for building.
Painting	$ 4,500.00	$ 2,000	Could be reduced if we're only painting entry area of building. CP or CP staff could paint the other areas on their own if they choose.
Windows (repair/secure)	$ 3,500.00	$ 3,500.00	Replacing broken kitchen window.
Rezoning
OCP & Zoning Ammendment Application	$ 1,750.00	$ 1,750.00

 HVAC may be able to be omitted if existing HVAC is in working order for temp facility. If not may be better to cap ductwork and install electric heaters throughout. Will increase electrical drastically if service needs to be upgraded
